

...largely the way this "system" we're in has been pulling off the book of revelation, they trick LURE people to watch underground entertainments based on myself as a Revelation character, -- it's the worst thing in the world, going on back to most of my life, starting by the time I was nine years old or really way before that in the morphing different abuse forms the system has been misusing me for, where today and the last decade for instance I've truly been the most desperate-for-assistance, any type of assistance would be useful and my problem is like a microcosm for the whole human race and the Earth's problems, where any assistance to me could rescue eternity from the unnecessary sadism of all of this's loss, the loss of all evolved biology, so I'm sitting here knowing all this and writing my little letters to say the Department of Justice and Secretary of Defense while I'm at this homeless shelter I just got out of and into this different one this year, and the system is doing I don't know what with this "top-secret" underground everywhere and right under wherever I am and I was just by the Capitol for those ten years but this also has been going on all along, back to that French Connection business of 1962, and everything is all UNPROVABLE as a complication too by the way, and if you try to say to any of these underground people that maybe Kathy Foshay or whatever her name is isn't so bad they become hysterically temper-tantrumming and start the world's most awful things, the whole underground of unspeakable horror all the time all my life going on behind my back and is going on right now real bad both in general for this particular "Amityville Horror" set up but also because I somehow got this little bell-ringing employment opportunity and these parasites are all all over anything I try to do to steal it from me, as how that "Revelation" is being worked and worked-up toward that Armageddon but one of the catches there is that the parasites on my life don't consider themselves to have anything to do with the Armageddon, and I finally realized recently that that's because the French Connection problem considers life from the perspective of being like a "king of the earth" that the Armageddon author-set is referring to there in that Revelation 16:16 area, that they aren't doing Armageddon, they're just having their own thing, and that includes all living off of me. It is really indescribable, no stranger could describe any of this for me and I could hardly cover all the bases of this "Science Fiction" subject, is one of the reasons for this attempt to get all the different facets of the TOTAL PLANETARY EXTINCTION situation down on one web-/blogsite. But they seem to attack anyone that is any helpful at all to myself, that there seems to be some behind my back whole game rulebook that no one is allowed to speak to or do anything useful for me, or you're chancing being "disappeared" into death and torture unknown-world underground. And here they seem to think nothing of it that these parasites also control all my communications, that in those ten years at the other shelter I never got mail on these hundreds of letters I've written and here they're always playing games with the little mailslot, as though I don't really need one because I'm not going to be getting it as though it goes somewhere that I already know about so there's no words spoken, and I can't complain or describe these things and no one listens to any of this that I'm saying because whatever the underground boys are rules everything. The CONVOLUTED aspect of all this is that it's the "Jesus et al." people who seem in charge of doing all the tortures to me for the parasites that have the Jesus-type/s as prisoners that's never been fixed since the two thousand or six hundred I think it maybe is or somewhat longer and maybe there are 2

types of "Jesus-types," an older "King Priam" type as well. // 9/16/16- to Chris, I'm completely serious that I'm used at the bottom of this doo-doo global-system's way of world-takeover, that it's just an ill idea that's never been re-assessed or updated in hundreds and hundreds of years, and as a seed or a baby I got stuck into this secret-warmonger underground "Neanderthal" -people group that that's only the secondary problem here but it enables that primary problem to happen, off of just keeping me in the gutters and feigning anger over any little thought I have or thing I do. I'm trying to explain that the "system" has to get re-assessed and in the meantime I've got the most bizarre situation where the system, with these goons from this Bronx Zoo-area family I'd been raised in's having made mass-reproductions of themselves everywhere that help keep me completely isolated from all "normal" people so I'm always looking for normal people and that's how disappearing normal people has been going on for all these years increasingly. If you thought you could "make contact" to get through that blockade what I'm trying to do is describe that the system is taking us really to TOTAL PLANET EXTINCTION and has to get straightened out. I keep running into reproductions of this Aldous Huxley character and that had me looking into books on your brother and then noticing you also, so if you'd like to hear more about this possible link there just get some email through I hope and I'll mention whatever I've come up with on that by then but if anyone would assist me I could work about a thousand times faster every day than I only can do under all this "invisible horror-circus" by which those Revelation world-takeover threats have really been getting one. If you've looked at this you could see this big mess I've got only trying to get seven pages from an old book onto here so people could see that one scene as an example of the everyday psycho-world we've been living in. I've got all kinds of other material I can't put on because I only get ten minutes at a time once in awhile to work on this site so far. kfohay. // 5/20/17, it gets worse and worse. I found where the main scar from the Prehistory-brain damage is, on the left side, hemisphere, called our Sylvian fissure, but I'm totally life-surrounded and can never believe how sadistic these system people are. Like right now it's the first time I've ever been left to just type and type away, but that's because the underground under here is doing a LURE so they like for me just to be sitting here for right now and not because they're being nice in any way, they're lulling the various types of pigeons and suckers to relaxing. No grown adult ever knows I'm alone here like this all these years, the system just targets them to learn about this without having contact with me and then disappears them.// 8/10/17... all this underworld-system sabotage. I'm trying to make the blogsite for real-life purposes but the system-boys have cartoon-affect all over and around wherever I go, whatever I try to do. They use me behind my back as a front-gimmick for attracting unsuspecting human normals, they haven't any bottom limit to their disgustingness and uncomprehendingness that anything is amiss, psychopaths that eat brains and feel superior to others therefore and live off of me way this global-system really goes and they are "after me" all of the time, always angling for how to better-use me for more LURE for their more people-getting for their support of themselves and their copy-offspring of themselves, that that's more important than others or anything, so I always stress not to even think of getting involved till I give some sort of a signal on the front page of the blogsite that there's some sort of a let-up in this animal-torture of myself.
